Dear Friends,

Every child and teen deserves a healthy start in life and a healthy future. The Rockingham Public Library is working hard to make that happen. This commitment is only possible with your help. We depend on the support of people like you to partner with us to ensure a bright future for all in our community.

Last year alone, the Library totaled 38,130 circulated items, and over 6,400 people attended 301 Library programs. Our Library transforms lives on a daily basis -- nowhere else can you find such a comprehensive array of books and media, technology, programs and services -- the tools to help library users of all ages realize their full individual potential-- all for free and under one roof. We are fortunate to have a library that is always changing and evolving, offering new and exciting programs for children, teens and adults.

Please partner with us today by making a gift to the Rockingham Public Library. From large gifts to small donations, every gift is vital to our continued success. These contributions help us buy new books, host thought-provoking and fun events, and continue to provide innovative library services.

As always, we extend our gratitude for your continued support and generosity.

Sincerely,

John Bohannon
